Perry Can Expect Fiber This Spring

Adams Fiber construction is expected to begin in the Perry community in late April. With this innovative service, Perry residents can expect ultra high-speed Internet access which will allow them to experience more robust Internet and voice services.

Adams Fiber requires commitment of town residents prior to the start of construction. Adams first began their fiber-to-the-home initiative in 2007 serving rural areas. In addition, two Adams Fiberhoods in Quincy are currently enjoying ultra fast Internet from Adams and more Fiberhoods are scheduled to start this spring. Additionally, construction is on pace to begin in the Bowen community on April 6th.

Adams Fiber has Internet packages starting at $49.95 and suggests residents take advantage of the limited time opportunity to Lock your Price in for Life by pre-registering to save $120.00 per year. Simply visit FollowTheFiber.net or call 217-214-3423 to sign-up for this service. Residents ready to meet their current and future Internet speed needs may also want to take note of Adams incredible $99.95 Gigabit package.

Adams has over 60 years of experience in the telecommunications industry, providing telephone and broadband Internet services in places where there was previously little or no coverage. The company is well known for business communication, Internet offerings and for investing in communities to further economic development.
